ACHIEVING • EXCELLENCE

Leek is hosting its very own beer festival to commemorate Ninkasi, the Sumerian goddess of beer and brewing. Well regarded with worshippers of the hop, Leek is a great beer drinking town and many visitors praise the range of pubs and how welcoming they are.

This two day festival, taking place on Saturday 2nd and Sunday 3rd November, will include a procession around the town of a figure of Ninkasi, made by local artist Chris Thompson, celebrating women in pubs.

LEEK REAL ALE TRAIL

Pick up a trail leaflet from one of the 21 pubs and bars around Leek or download a copy at www.discoverstaffordshiremoorlands.co.uk
The pubs and bars along the trail all have something different to offer.
